

NEW ST PAUL'S HOSPITAL SITE

SOCIAL IMPACT

ASSESSMENT

CommunityIMPACT Consulting is conducting a Social Impact Assessment for the City of Vancouver on the proposed new St. Paul's Hospital and Health Campus to be located near Station Street in the False Creek Flats (beside Pacific Central train station).

A Social Impact Assessment is a way to find out how a major development will affect the people living or working near it. It also looks at impacts to those living in areas nearby that may feel associated impacts over time. Impacts can be positive or negative.

Be part of this attempt to identify potential the social impacts of this site. Give your personal input into what is important to you in your neighbourhood, what community assets and gaps exist and what your hopes and fears are about the new hospital relocating to this area.

Do you live or work near the proposed site of the new St. Paul's hospital site?
